Herald Editor Evaluates Card Reporting System

"We feel it is much more satisfactory for parents, pupils, and teachers to have a parent-teacher conference plan of reporting to parents in place of the straight grade card, not only for academic reasons but for the emotional and social development of the child and better parent-child relationships," stated Jack O. Baldwin, managing editor of the Torrance Herald, in his talk to the WALTERIA PTA last Thursday.

This new system was the outgrowth of a committee of school personnel and lay people of Torrance and was adopted by the Torrance Unified School District last July. The plan consists of a written report covering all subjects including social growth, as well as the individual parent-teacher conference.

A newly-formed "Kitchen Band" presented several lively numbers under the direction of Mrs. L. Skinner, Mrs. S. Chmara, music chairman, was organizer of the group of mothers, Mrs. Evar Jansson, leader of Troop 57 Senior Girl Scouts, asked for sponsorship of two new troops of Girl Scouts being formed with the following to act as leaders: Mrs. D. Menger and Mrs. Robert Wagner, Girl Scouts; and Mrs. J. Minter and Mrs. B. Ritzer, Brownies. Continued sponsorship of Cub Pack 240C also was accepted.

Principal D. Boone Kirks presented the entire school faculty of 16 teachers, seven of whom are new this year.

The program and the budget for the coming year were adopted by the body. Mrs. Glen Hardcastle, president, presided over the meeting with the kindergarten mothers serving as hostesses. Mrs. M. Stewart's kindergarten was awarded the room prize.

Approximately one hundred and fifty members and guests attended the joint Business and Professional Women's Club meeting held Monday evening in the Pathfinder Club, Compton, under the auspices of the Compton, Gardena, Hawthorne, Lawndale, and Torrance clubs.

Mrs. Ivy A. Grace, a former Torrance resident who serves as first vice-president of the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, spoke on the theme for 1951-1952, "Full Partnership Ahead." She stressed the point that our challenge is for today. She suggested that each of us look closely at ourselves to ascertain if we measure up to the kind of person we like to live with 24 hours a day. Much could be accomplished if we put into practice the following virtues: "Integrity," which she defined as soundness of moral principle and character; "Unity of Purpose and Action"; "Good Citizenship"; "Faith to believe, Vision to see and Courage to do."

The National Federation has come far in its 32-year existence and it is ever striving for a better business world for better business women.
